Loans

UC Clermont offers three short-term loan funds for students. These interest-free loans are repaid on a pre-arranged schedule with low monthly payments. For application information, contact UC Clermont—Financial Aid.

The Clarence and Martha Ensminger Educational Fund

Loans from this fund are used for tuition and books. Preference is given to students with low incomes and who are from a rural or Appalachian heritage.

The Jim Sauls, Sr. Stay in School Fund

This fund was established in 1992 when local business owner Jim Sauls, Sr. saw students leaving college because of financial emergencies. Designed to be a stop-gap, short-term loan for UC Clermont students—and now funded by local business members—this loan is for expenses other than tuition costs.

The Charles E. Schell Foundation Loan Fund

Loans from this fund assist students with tuition, fees, and books. Preference is given to traditional college students who have a minimum of a 2.0 GPA and face financial difficulties.
